Take Your Current IT to the Next Level with Co-Managed IT from Techwhizz Network Solutions

Help your internal IT team focus on their specialties while TECHWHIZZ NETWORK SOLUTIONS Name fills in the essential gaps.

Depending on your organization's size and technology needs, you may already have an internal team in place to manage your IT. This could be a full IT support department that fields daily IT requests or a single IT administrator who oversees and maintains the network.

Regardless of the in-house IT team's size and scope, most organizations discover that gaps in IT coverage form as the business grows and changes. In the past, the only way to address these gaps was to hire more IT staff. Co-managed IT gives you an option that's more affordable and full of advantages.

We Extend Your IT Team

Co-managed IT services involve a relationship between your internal IT team and an external IT provider like TECHWHIZZ NETWORK SOLUTIONS.

When we work together, we develop and implement a customized plan on how to best divide up tasks to manage and maintain your IT infrastructure. This partnership allows our team of experts to fill gaps in your IT department by outsourcing specific complementary knowledge and tools.

This model brings additional benefits to businesses that lack the resources or experience to manage a growing IT infrastructure alone. By working with us, you gain access to a larger pool of expertise and resources, which brings new levels of efficiency and security to your IT operations.

Best of all, in most cases, co-managed IT involves far lower costs than hiring more IT staff.

The Advantages of Co-Managed IT

- Add needed IT expertise without hiring new staff
- Built-in scalability
- Reduced management responsibility
- Access to 24/7 support
- Opportunity for improved security and compliance
- Keep up to date with the latest trends and technology
- Reduced overall costs

Get the Additional Expertise You Need (Right When You Need It)

Co-managed IT services are a versatile way for in-house IT teams to share management responsibility with TECHWHIZZ NETWORK SOLUTIONS and lighten the workload for IT departments that are overworked or stretched thin. We will help you implement new technologies and processes more quickly and efficiently than is possible by going it alone. The flexibility of the co-managed IT model helps you stay agile and better manage change